New Form I-9 Issued

Form I-9 is the form employers must use to verify employment eligibility of employees. A new version of the I-9 form was issued on Monday, July 17, 2017. It can be used immediately, and it must be used after September 17, 2017. It is important for employers to always use the most current Form I-9 available, but you may continue using the previous Form I-9 (which has a revision date of 11/14/16 in the bottom left corner) through September 17. The new version of the I-9 can be downloaded from <http://1.usa.gov/sCDS> or https://www.uscis.gov/system/files_force/files/form/i-9-paper-version.pdf. See also: <https://www.uscis.gov/i-9-central/whats-new>.

In addition to the I-9 form, employers in Alabama must also continue to use the E-Verify system for all new hires.

If you have any questions about this, about completing the new I-9 form, or with any other employment issues, please contact us.
